Myl. L. OF DAVID BR. SH.—The Surrogate a limited in. will to probate. A report was published when the case was on sevenents for weeks ago. The testator was advanced in left, and to show the state of the face of the sense of the same for taking care of the state, except an annuity to the office of the entire in some of the state, except an annuity to the office of the entire in some of the state, except an annuity to the office of the face of the sense for taking care of the property, and after her death the executors are directed to sell all the real estate of the testater, and to divide the proceeds equally bet seen the children samed in the will. The testimony offered for the contestants was directly principally to the state of mind and body of Mr. Brash during the latter part of his life, and to show an under influence execution, went to the point that the whole scheme of the state of the testator many years prior to its execution, and that he had executed wills substantially similar to the one offered for probate, which were made exhibits in the case.
Since the argument on the 19th of June last, the widow, Mr. Strub, died, leaving a will which is also differed for probate, and the children now take in due course of administration under the first will as admitted to probate. Geo, G. Bellows for executor.

COLLISION ON THE RIVER .- Yester rday morning. about I o'clock, the ferry-boat Curken, of the Peckship Perry, was driven against one of the docks on Corlear's Hook, New-York, by the ferry-boat Onabake, of the James-elip Ferry. The Onalaska was shead of the Curlew on going up the river, and when epposite the Gas-Rouse dock, en the Brooklyn side, the Ourlew had gained on her, and endeavored to pass between the Onalaska and the shore. The pilot of she Onalaska, Nimrod Baulsir, ran his boat close in to prevent thes. The Curlew then ran over to the New-York shore, when the Onalasks followed, and, on the Curlew again attempting to pass, ran her into the dock, smashing her rail, and causing about $300 damage. No person was injured.

TRIAL OF THE NEW ENGINE OF THE BROOKLYS WATER WORKS -The pumping engine of the Brooklyn Water-Works was submitted this last week to a 48 bours' trial of its ability to pump easily at the rate of 10,600,600 gallons into the Ridge wood Reservoir in 24 hours. A further test will be made in the course of the month is regard to its consumption of fuel, and its ability to increase the above rate to 10,000,000 gal-lone delivered in sixteen hours. The present trial was conducted by the Assistant Engineer in charge, Mr. McEiroy, and the result argued very favorably for the eventual success of this large medius. The engine worked through 4th hours without interruption or intercession, although the observations for the measurement were confined to 48 hours of this time only.

UNION TEMPERANCE ASSOCIATION .- The second meeting of this association, which is composed of delegates from various lodges of the Sons of Temperance, and of the Washington Prospect Temple of Honor, was held last night at Union Hall, in the Bowery. The bail was well filled by a respectable audience, which was presided over by Joseph Manning, esq., and was addressed by Mr. E. C. Driggs, Mr. A. Flanigan and others. After a comic song by James Haley, a number of names were added to the total abstinence roils. These meetings are held weekly. AMUSENESTS .- Theaters are thinly attended just now, the public apparently saving itself for Independence Day. "She Stoops to Conquer" was admirably played last night at the Metropolitan. The scenes between Jordan and Ada Clifton (Marlowe and Miss Hardcastle) sere given in a manner highly creditable to both artists. Miss Henrarde (as Miss Neville), although almost a novice in parts of such importance acquitted herself commendably, and made a very favorable impression.

But the strength of the Douglas men fairly appeared on the vote for delegates to the Charleston Convention. Two of their candidates, Bion Bradbury of Eastport and Amos M. Reberts of Bangor, received 353 and 352 votes respectively out of 640. The Hon. G. F. Shepley of Portland came next, receiving 328 votes. He is described as "a moderate Administration man," but in a speech delivered after his election, he fully inforsed the resolutions, and said that he "would not yield to the South the doctrine that Congress can either establish or abolish Slavery in the Territories," or in any wey give it special protection. "The false keel of Congressional intervention had," in his opinion "been too long under the ship of State." The other Delegate, the Hon. E. W. Farley, who was elected by 300 votes to 293 for E. R. COMMERCIAL MATTERS.

FRIDAY, July 2-P. M. The variations were not important at the Scock Exchange this morning, as compared with the closing prices of yesterday, but nearly all the changes, such as they were, in the leading speculative stocks of the market were in favor of lower prices. Just at the close of the session, however, there was rather a firmer look, and after the adjournment, prices were stronger, especially for New-York Central, which, after touching 721 at the Board, rallied to 721, and later in the day, was quoted at 72} bid. Reading, without much activity, had a steady, wellsustained market, and after selling at 412, advanced again to 417. Michigan Central was hammered smartly on sellers' options, but found a fair degree of support at 382 239 for cash stock. Michigan Southern Guaranteed was the most active railway stock on the list, but was pressed freely into the market, and sold down to 26 on the call. The late terrible accident has bad an unfavorable influence upon the stock, taken in connection with its financial embarrassments and diminished traffic. Illinois Central advanced to 624, which was bid in closing transactions. The upward movement in this stock has been quite steady, and its upward steps seem to rest upon solid points as they progress to higher figures. There was but little doing in Galena, Toledo and Rock Island. The only material change was in Teledo, which went down to 24, and was rather heavy. Panama and Pacific Mail were both firm at quotations. The Bond movement was not extensive. State stocks were steady, with the exception of Missouris, which declined | per cent, selling ex-coupen, at 824. Railway Bonds of the best class were firm. Mich. Central Sinking Funds advanced to 90, and Illinois Central was 1 per cent better. After the Board there was but little doing, except in New-York Central, which was in better demand. The Board holds no further session

The Saxonia, for Hamburg to-day, took $100,000 in specie. It is estimated that the shipment to-morrow by the two steamers will be $1,250,000 to $1,500,000. The preparations for the Fourth, and the wants of the stock brokers, who are generally settling to-day all their contracts coming due before Tuestay next, has caused an increased movement in money, and in some cases advanced rates of interest have been obtained on demand loans. The disbursement of interest and dividends will next week, it is anticipated, supply the market freely at old rates, say 51@6 & cent. There is a good inquiry for paper in the discount houses at 6127 P cent for leading names. The quantity offering is quite moderate. For Treasury Notes there is an active inquiry for investment from all parts of the country. The unusual opportunity of obtaining a Government Security paying 5] P cent interest is attracting general attention Sales have been made at | P cent premium for 6 P cents, and | P cent for 5 | P cents. Mr. Cisco has considerable negotiations on hand at 5] $\psi$ cent interes*, and has no doubt of being able to issue all the Secretary desires to dispose of that rate. There was a sale to-day of $40,000 of the new 5 P cent Loan of this State. Messrs. Thompson Brothers, who obtained nearly the whole Loan, hold it at 102.

In addition to the default of the Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad interest, we hear of no important failures to pay. The City of Covington, Ky., did not meet her interest, and two or three Western Roads which have heretofore been delinquest were again so. The County of Mason, Ky., paid to-day, but gives notice to her creditors that hereafter she shall only consider the $1,000 bond issued to the Maysville and Lexington Road as $833 33, and pay interest on that sum, and the $1,000 bond issued to the Maysville and Big Sandy Road as $650, and pay on that sum. The county also announces the intention to buy up the debt as fast as possible, and will be prepared soon to offer 75 for $15,000 a $20,000 of the b ands issued to the Mayeville and Lexington Road. This cool piece of repudiation will probably be set right by the Supreme Court of the State, which has just granted a mandamuon the City of Maysville to compel the payment of certain interest. In regard to the Fort Wayne and Chicago Road, we understand that there is considerable diseatisfaction among the foreign holders of the bonds, and that some suits will probably be commenced against the Company.

The Mariners' Savings Bank has declared a dividend at the rate of 6 ? cent ? annum on sums of $500 and under, and 5 P cent on sums over $500. The interest the Freeland Bonds of the Florida Atlantic and Gulf Central Railroad will be paid by Joseph Grice, No. 96 Wall street. The Hanover Fire Insurance Company has declared a semi annual dividend of 6 P cent, payable on demand. The Bank of Com merce will pay the semi-annual interest on $20,000,000 Missouri State Bonds; Coupons of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company; St. Louis Gas Light Company; Guerasey County (Ohio) Bonds, in all about $750,000. The Merchants' Exchange Bank has declared a dividend of 31 P cent, payable July 9. The Bank of the State of New-York will pay coupons of the State of Virginia Loans (about $10,000,000), and dividends of the Panama Railroad Company. The Hope Fire In-surance Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of 5 F cent. The coupons of the Virginia and Tennessee Railroad Company, due July 1, will be paid by Peters, Campbell & Co., No. 50 Wall street. The United States Life Insurance Company pays its usual semi-annual interest on and after to-day (Friday). The New-York Exchange Bank has declared a 4 ? cent dividend, payable July 10. ment of hestilities between the belligerent powers of Europe, we have witnessed an extraordinary flow of the precious metals to Eogland, the great financial center of the world. From the United States, Russia, Australia, and Mexico, the contributions have been immerse, attracted thither by the inexorable laws of trade, which draw from debtor countries balances in specie, according to the ratio of supply and demand t the point of attraction. The Bank of England, to meet the serious drafts upon her reserves in coin and bullion, and to turn the specie tide in its favor, raised the discount minimum rapidly, until the point of eqiibrium seemed to be established, and having accomplished the purpose in creating an extraordicary inlax of gold, now relaxes the rate of interest again, and the money market, recovering from the first stock and strengthened by the large supplies, settles back to something of its previous case and abundance. To this stage has the English market arrived, and in taking it as the standard, as the great financial sun around which other markets revolve, and toward which they gravitate, it becomes interesting to study the changes going on in that quarter. It is first then be observed, that notwithstanding the immense influx of the precious metals, there has been but little actual gain in the specie reserves of the Bank of England. The week y returns have exhibited to us, first a cessarion of the drain, next a small gain, but at length we are presented with a statement which shows that the receipts are but barely enough to maintain the figures of the preceding returns. We arrive at once to the conclusion that during all this period of contribution from debtor constries, there has been a constant undercurrent of specie, which has been absorbing a good portion of the supplies. And this is the fact; steamer after steamer arrives with its precious freight -s small portion of the shipment finds its way into the Bank-the balance is taken for the Continent. The consequence is, that England, as the financial reservoir, or point of exchanges for the world, has merely been providing a little more than sufficient to make its own losses good. The last statement, taken in connection with the reduced rate of interest, suggests that we are approximating to another phase of the market. Much, of course, depends upon the course, duration and extent of the war, as we have before observed, but looking upon its continuance for months to come as almost certain, we may at the same time conclude that the Bank will presently be obliged again to check the outgo, by a return to higher rates of discount. The next Bank eturn will give us a further clue to the move nents, and if, as we suspect, the current is setting against England, we shall witness a partial restoration of the interest minimum to the bigher points from which they were but recently reduced. The bearing of all this upon our own money market needs no explanation; the stronger the attraction at the point of settlement of our immense foreign trade, the more serious the demand for our specie, and instead of a cessation or failing off in the shipments, we shall not be surprised to witness an increase. The weekly imports at this port furnish a satisfac ry explanation of the state of our exchanges with reign countries; and, as England is the commercial clearing-house" of the world, we are obliged to pay up our trade balances in coin, to say nothing of the large amount of our contributions for interest and the repurchase of our own securities. Under the circumstances, we have not been able to feel any confidence in the permanence of the present easy condition of the English Money market, and hence have been disposed to regard that policy the most prudent which shapes itself in business operations to meet such disturbances

Messrs. Ashley & Norris advertise for sale Sewerage Seven & Cent Bonds of the City of Chicago, due 1884. The entire amount of the city debt to March 1, 1859, was $2,239,000, all of which has been issued for strictly municipal purposes. The debt is appor-

The water repts produce annually an amount sufficient to pay operating expenses, the interest on that portion of the debt, and an annual sinking fund for its gradual extinction. The balance of interest is provided for by taxation. The sinking fund of the sewerage loan now amounts to $30,000, duly invested according to the provisions of the act. The assessed value of taxables in the city was, in 1855, $26,992,893; in 1856, $31,736,084; and in 1858, $36,200,000, being only one third of the actual value. The population in 1855 was 83,509, and in 1859 is estimated at 130,000.

Some days since we made some remarks upon the decision in the case of Outwater agt. Travers & Jerome. Mr. Outwater has sent us the annexed communication, which appeared in The Syracuse Daily Journal, and which we republish, in order to place

Journal, and which appeared in The Syracuse Daily Journal, and which we republish, in order to place his defense before our readers:

OUTWAYER AGINST TRAYERS & JEROME.—The malicious and scandalous nature of the attacks upon me in reference to this case in the New York papers so plainly indicate the actual source from which they emanate, that but for the apparent indorement of that press, it would be folly to notice it. As it is, silence on my part might be considered an admission of the justice of the attacks, and I therefore ask that you give the same publicity to this as you have to the a andelious charger.

In the various articles on this case, the idea is sought to be conveyed, that plaintiff without cause or provocation has prosesuited and brought to trait at action for the purpose of obtaining from defendants a large amount of money, paid by them for plaintiff in stock transactions, on the ground of the illegality of those transactions and that on the trial the Jungs had promptly rebuiled plaintiff by establishing a new doortine and tarning him out of court with diegrace. When, in fact, as will be shawn, it was defendants who availed themselves of a decision of the Court of Appeals—well known to every lawyer, and published in 5th Selden—to avoid responsibility to plaintiff, or an inquiry into their acts on the ground of the fliegality of the transactions, while plaintiff was desirons of investigating the transaction themselves. The whole case is in a untaneli. Plaintiff, considering himself greatly worned by defendants in certain stock transact ons, and failing to obtain sunsfaction, had the andscity to prosecute defendants with a view of ellicity the facts, and in the event of showing them in the wrong and obtaining such recovery as the first entitled him to. As the law stood when this matter arose, the Court of Appeals had decided that transactions of this neture were likegal and void, and that as between the principal and lish broker the former had no rights which the latter was bound to respect (a sor

To the Enter of The N. Y. Tribuse.

Sir: We have noticed a communication in The Syracuse Journal from the plaintiff in this case. Mr. Outwater never had the slightest cause to complain of m. nor have we been instrumental in plaining him is his present unfortunate position. On the contrary, before the sixt was brought, we offered to submit the matter to three members of the heard of Browers, of his own selection, and to alke we the heard of Browers, of his own selection, and so alke we the fuelest inspection of our books and pupers, and submit to an examination under oath. This he declined, and such us "for the whole." As to the occurrences since, we refer to the accompanying note from our comment Mr. Gilbert.

No. 19 WILLIAM STREET, July 1.

GENTLEMEN: I have read the card of Mr. Outwater. A brief statement will enable you to "put the book on the right left" and to vindicate the comments of the press.

Mr. O. 19 points are: 1. That having reason to charge you with unjust dealing in conducting his sy colations in stocks he brought the suft in order to have a trial "upon the merita." 2 That you evend such a trial on the ground that the transactions were illegal unjust dealing in conducting his special than the intrasections were the suff in order to have a trial "upon the merita." 2 That you evaded such a trial on the ground that the transactions were illegal.

ANSWER—1. The complaint in the action averred a deposit with you "for safe keeping," and the judgment demanded was for $2.604 and line set, being the beliance over and above the sum returned to Mr. O personally. The defence set up in the sum returned to Mr. O personally. The defence set up in the same was that $2.004 of the deposit had been applied by the direction of Mr. O in paying lesses arising upon sales of stacks made by you, and received by him.

2 It will be perserved, therefore, that Mr. O. t-indered no issue "upon the merits," of which he now speaks; that the defense was put up in the sile ground of "merits," and that the subject of illegality was not referred to in the pleadings.

By in the trial, Mr. O. took the stand as a witness in his own because examination, however, other facts were elicted, and the correspondence was put in evidence. On this I insisted that the cycle is a showed that the deposit for a fact were elicted, and the correspondence was put in evidence. On this I insisted that the cycle is showed that the deposit was made, not "for safe keeping," Upon his put as an indemnity against lesses on "time coursets for the sle of stocks; that the refore, the facts failed to statin the complaint, and that it would be necless to allow an amendament, even if allowable, because upon a statement of the facts of the case as they really existed, it would appear that the transaction was liegal and no recovery could be had. To this Mr. O. 'connect, Mr. Armerdy, replied, thus the deposit was not nade as such indemnity and raving been applied in the manner stand, you could not be taking the stating the riverances of which he complained, and the fact in support of them, amply and in detail. At the cynclosion of his testimony, the Court granted a missuit, upon the ground, let, that if the reposit was mad
